

Global Gabby

WHOA!

Gabby was a normal girl, living in a normal world. Until one day she noticed that it got hotter and hotter as she practiced for cheer. After practice, she knew she had to do something about the unusual heat outside.

That day Gabby began to research what was the cause of the temperature rising. She learned about global warming and how it was a real thing! She also learned about acid rain, and air pollution.

MAYBE she Needed to do something about it!!

As she read many books and researched, she couldn't help but realize she was gaining superpowers as she read more about global warming, acid rain, and pollution.

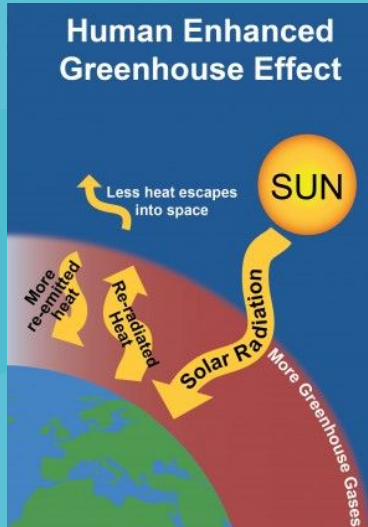

Before she knew it, she had noticed her ability to water down heat with sprinkler hands, then she saw that she had powers to pick up pollution with the magnetic powers of her fingers also. Next, she realized she could fly over land to bucket acid rain. Lastly, Gabby could see with her infrared vision to where pollutants were hurting our land.

This is Pollutant Polly.

She is responsible for trapping greenhouse gases. She has used her evil powers to encourage all the world to add to pollution through evil human activities. Pollutant Polly loves emissions, and methane gases and plots to slowly heat the world little by little until it bursts into flames. With her superpowers, she can invoke acid rain, pollute the world and make it hotter!

Suddenly, Pollutant Polly's signals were being picked up by Global Gabby's radar. Global Gabby used her infrared vision to see the danger the World was in, and instantly flew in to save the day.

Global Gabby was able to stop the forces of Pollutant Polly and return the world back to normal.

She was able to speak to companies all over the world about smog and how it could cause acid rain. She was also able to convince all nations to do their part to slow down the effects of global warming, and end pollution. Thankfully the world listened, and hopefully someday she can enjoy cheer again, without so much heat!

The End
